CROP NEWS SERVICE

Telegraphic Reports to Be Extended to All States.

Department of Agriculture, Through Co-operation With Bureau of Statistics and Weather Bureau, Furnish News Quickly to Papers.

Washington.-As a result of resociations in many states, the United States department of agriculture has announced that the November crop reports for each state will be supplied to the newspapers in all states through the central weather station, located in each of the states.

This is an extension of the experireturns to the central weather stations in each of nine states, and having these telegrams duplicated at once and mailed to the newspapers now invested in the saloon business. and agricultural publications. Under this plan newspapers in 39 additional states will now receive full details of the state crops far more quickly than would be possible if these state crop details were put in the mails in Washington and had to travel by train long distances to the more remote states

Under this plan, the general summary of the crops for the United States will, as heretofore, be issued in Washington for telegraphhic distribution. It has been found, however, that the conditions of crops within their particular states are of especial value to the farmers and producers, to whom the conditions in their own state are important in the marketing of their produce.

Under this plan the department sends one telegram to the central weather bureau in each state, and within a few minutes after the crop figures for the state are completed in Washington the weather bureau is enabled to mail copies of the figures from a central point within the state to all papers in that state.

Under the code system used, the department is under the necessity of telegraphing only a few figures, as the figures of previous crops for comparison are supplied to each weather bureau station by mail. The cost of the telegram for each state does not exceed 75 cents.

The Crop data thus circulated by mail to the newspapers will give: (a) a full list of the crops; (b) the averup the streams? Yet because some age condition of each crop for ten year periods in that particular state; (c) the condition of the state crop for November 9. In the adjoining column will be given the same data for the United States, so that the farmers who read these notices can compare the crops in their state as of November 9, with the ten year averages of their own state, and in the same way with the average condition throughout the United States on November 9, and for These state crop reports are not supplied to individuals; and are mailports for the 39 states newly added to the list will be sent only to the daily papers, the county-seat papers, and agricultural publications. Meanwhile, the department is preparing lists of small town weeklies, and in woman and child; if it would add to December the crop reports will be sent also to the smaller papers.

The regulations also place foreign meats after entry into the United States on the same basis as domestic meats. Heretofore imported meats have been governed entirely by the food and drugs act and have been excluded from the establishments under the inspection of the bureau of animal industry under the meat inspection act. Under the new regulations im-

A large mass meeting was recently held in Belfast, Ireland, to protest against the maintenance of the potato quarantine by the American government, and resolutions were passed testifying to the freedom of the Irish crop from potato wart and suggesting that a representative of the Irish department of agriculture proceed to America to confer with Secretary Houston. They were, however, apparently under the impression that the quarantine was based entirely upon the wart disease, whereas the federal horticultural board has also taken the occurrence of powdery scab into consideration.

LETTERHEAD? KEYD KOOK OMN DID KON EKEK A Citizen's Letter.

Nickell, Ky., Nov. 27, '13. To the Morgan Public:

While I have not spent much of my time in this county or state during the last four or five years, I am still a Morgan boy through and through and my blood runs hot when I see men trampling the free and just rights of her people. There is no doubt as to the convictions of the people in regard to the heirs of that grafter Sewell, but as to those who are giving them support and legal help, do the people

Only a few months ago we beheld the figure of a man prowling abaut this county as a thief in the night, gathering information, and when pressed by the honest public as to his purpose, he denied flatly that he was doing anything in the interest of the Sewell swindlers, and no doubt at that time he was paid by them to do it. This former Morgan man is a real Arnold Mrs. Will Foremen and little daughter, of modern times, a traitor to his people, a Wanda Lee; Miss Mabel Thompson: Claude man clothed in dog hair, trying to deceive Wells. All report and elegant dinner and the people. This is the man who hatched this scheme. He has kept this egg in his hatchery, guarded for years, and now it is about to develop into a real feathered fowl, one that he hopes will lay him a golden egg, but I sincerely trust that it will develop, instead, spurs keen enough to pierce his seared conscience, if he has any, and cause him to deeply feel the outrage that he has heaped upon us, his people and kindred blood. In other days soon, you will see his shaggy form prowling about this county doing his stealthy deeds. Will you give him a bone or a stone?

Just a few years ago Judge Ed O'Rear was going the rounds of this county thundering his campaign notes of patriotism, and asked us to roll up a solid vote for him for him for the highest office in the gift of the State. What think ye of him now? He feels himself very large, with cough, with discharge of mucus great ideals, he thinks, and a future of big and worms, dumpishness, weakevents ahead, and, of course, expects us, the common people of his native county, to overlook such an insignificant act, in his Dead birds will show forked big way of doing things, as to plead worms attached to the windpipe. against us in an impios litigation that in- The adult female gape worm ers as they have done you?

should love the very appearance of their people, who are so ungrateful for the pub lic support they have received at our hands? If you or I should do things so base and unpatriotic as some men have earthworms, done, we would feel meaner than devils and never want to set foot on Morgan soil isolate affected birds, treat again, but ere long they will be among us again with countenance as brazen as brass monkeys, and will shake hands until your very joints pop. Give such men the just and remove chicks to fresh

There may be others of less calibre who are lending these outrages their support, and no doubt expect at least a smell of the crust when the pie is cut. Will the true citizenry stand together and bring such men to the light and fly their colors where the people will know them? They may argue in fluent terms that the swindle gang are due justice. There is not one ounce of justice due them from the people of this county. Ask Granville Haney of Canne City, one of the very few living people who know anything personally about this outrage, the circumstance of the Jno. Se bastian farm now in litigation. How they presented a simple mineral lesse, had it signed without acknowledgement and then had a deed, properly acknowledged, recorded instead of the lease. Do such ac tions deserve consideration by the courts? Let the Courier tell you how this shark, Sewell, met his end and eternal fate Would that every citizen would stand for his rights and the rights of his neighbors as did O. J. McKenzie when he took charge of the field notes of their surveyors when they attempted to survey his farm.

I have not one dollar involved in the trouble, but I have friends who have, and they bought, paid the taxes, and have peacefully owned these lands for not only twenty years but fifty, and now when there is a chance for increase in value, we held up in this scandalous manner. Very few are receiving meney direct from oil production but in many ways the money is being distributed among the people. Last week at the Cole Hotel men were registered from Ohio, Pennsylvania, West Virginia New York, St. Louis, Denver and other places. They are speculators and leave development stopped indefinately; do we want those who have spent thousands dollars in oil development to lose their jus holdings, and the honest, peaceful citizens to be held up and robbed in this way by these thievish sharks? Let us wake up and stand together as a solid unit in this pending litigation and hold for the peoplthat which beyond a doubt belongs to

All who go the way of these sharks, fear, will soon enough come into their own, the coveted mineral region of the lower world, but they will not need the OIL for light, nor the COAL for heat, neither will they be able to use the SILVER SPOOR Cra GOLDEN harp. They will leave these

The symptoms are frequent gaping, sneezing, a whistling ness and drooping of wings.

WASTE ROAD BUILDING FUNDS

Department of Agriculture Points Out Need of Constructing the Right Kind of Roads.

The office of public roads of the department of agriculture is making a strong effort to focus the mind of the country on the fact that mainteance and effective repair are of equal importance with the actual improvement economy until provision is made for keeping these new roads in condition after they are built. If a new road was built and then allowed to fall into vestment is simply wasted.

Europe, generally speaking, is ahead of the United States in the matter Britain is struggling with a problem similar to the one that confronts the people of the United States. In England, Scotland and Wales there are no fewer than 2,140 separate authorities who between them, administer 175,487 miles of roads, or an average of only Dinner with Mrs. Hattie Moore, at the Cole 82 miles apiece. In Scotland, apart from the big cities there are over 200 burghs, one-half of which have but ten miles of road apiece to maintain. Needless to say, such a minute mileage is insufficient to keep the road plant fully occupied all the year around, and renders the employment of a skilled engineer impossible for economical reasons. Officials of the office of public roads when called upon for assistance by the various states are pointing out that road building is an art based on a science, and that trained men and experienced men are necessary to secure the best results from the expenditure of road funds.

Statisticians have found that although the average expenditure on the improvement of roads exceeds one million dollars a day, a large portion of the money in the United States is wasted because of the failure to build the right type of road to meet the local requirements or the failure to provide for the continued maintenance of the improvement. The various states and counties within the past six months have taken a greater interest in road improvement than ever before in the history of the United tSates, and there is now a strong movement to conserve the roads of the country where they are improved. Scientific maintenance will be one of the chief features of the work of the office of public roads throughout the present year.

VIEWS OF LEADING JOURNALS

Progressive Newspapers Keep Up With Times on Temperance as Well as on Other Vital Questions.

In a recent interview with Mrs. L. M. U. Stevens, president National W. C. T. U., a newspaper correspondent asked the question:

"How do the temperance views of the leading journals of the country compare with those of editors and contributors who, ten years ago, were a power in the journalistic world? It is said that their best thoughts find their way to your study."

"Journalism and journalists have kept up with the times on the temperance question, as well as on all other prominent issues," was the reply. More than 150 dailies refuse to take liquor advertisements, and nearly all of the best magazines now exclude them. Through the subtle use of money by brewers and distillers, articles against total abstinence and prohibition occasionally appear in the magazines, for money still is a power, money with the people. Do we want this it to Morgan county we have but truth is mightier than money, and is evermore making its way. Leading journalists now recognize that the nation wide movement to outlaw the liquor traffic is an economic question, and public sentiment is fast demanding that whatever stands in the way of efficiency and prosperity shall be eview of New and Old World Codes German "Ducking Stool," Among Strangest-Not for Witches and Scolds.

A little while ago a juvenile offender was sentenced by the presiding judge in an American court of law to six Saturday afternoons in bed. He was thus deprived of his weekly holiday, for grown people which we and several of the newspapers that chronicled the incident gravely inquired whither our modern ideas of are inclined to agree with the newspapers, however, and denounce the and let everybody have a sentence as tending to make a mockery of justice, will do well to bear in chance for a nice present bemind that not only in America is it becoming the fashion to make the fore the holidays are over. penalty fit the crime. Original forms of punishment are no longer the exception but the very curious rule.

In one of the towns of northern Germany the ancient "ducking stool" has been revived. But whereas, our ancestors employed the ducking stool for witches and scolding women, the present revival is employed to cure habitual intoxication. A chair is fastened to the end of a long pole balanced over the edge of the water tank. The drunkard is tied into the chair, the pole is tipped up and he receives a one. complete sousing.

A man in one of the gold producing states of America was recently charged with violent assault upon his wife, and was obliged to pay the penalty in a manner that must have severely discouraged that particular species of offense. The sentence of the court was that he should be imprisoned for one month, during which period he was to be taken from his cell every morning and tied to a post in the leading thoroughfare. Here he was to stand for two hours exposed to the public gaze, bearing around his neck a large placard inscribed in bold letters with the words, "Wife Beater."

Every morning the wretched culprit stood in the public street surrounded by a crowd of women and children who appeared to take peculiar pleasure in discussing the unfortunate man's home life and his character,and expressing sympathy with his wife. It was a bitter penance, reminding one of the old British institution, the stocks.

In another American city a man, who was arrested for street fighting, was offered the choice of a month in jail or a flogging. He chose the latter, and was flogged by the court official from the prison gates to his home, howling pietously, to the great happiness of a mob of onlookers.

Strange as such punishments appear. there are countries which can boast of stranger crimes. In certain Si DECLINE IN OUR BIRTH RATE liable to arrest, the penalties being graded according to length of the train and the obstinacy of the offender. The law has been passed in the interests of health, the danger that infectious diseases may be communicated through the medium of trailing skirts being well known.

A tradesman in a small German town who, at a public meeting, recently disturbed the audience by incessant sneezing was arrested, and it was only with difficulty that he proved to the magistrate he had not purposely committed this "breach of the peace." A sudden sneeze is liable, it is true, to startle nervous people in the immediate vicinity of the sneezer. But it has been reserved to the German intellect to discover anything criminal in it, just as it has been reserved to Great Britain to prosecute men and women for sleeping out o' nights.

If you call a man liar in certain American states you are liable to pros ecution. It is merely a misdemeanor in some districts, punishable by a fine of 25 cents, but in Texas the offensive use of the word is followed by a fine of $25, and Georgia you are likely to be punished by a fine of $1,000 or imprisonment for a year, or both!

Which is Correct? In Essex county, New Jersey, says the Springfield Republican, there is a bitter feud over the grammar of "go slow," or "go slowly," on the road signs put up by the park commission, and college experts have been appeal ed to. Professor Phelps of Yale rules that "slow" is incorrect. Dr. Henry Van Dyke says that "slowly" is to be preferred. Both forms are indorsed by Professor Kittridge of Harvard Professor Manley of Chicago and Dr. Childs of the University of Pennsylvania, while Professor Denman of the University of Michigan and Professor McBryde of the University of the South, prefer "slow," on the ground that "slowly" is pedantic book English. The commissioners may find it as hard as ever to make up their minds, but at all events they can not
